Are you serious. You really think this is the best. I can think of better games. Doesn't it depend more on what kind of games your into? Me personally I'd Rather have a pizza and some and KFC and listen to the missus go on and on About the mother in law, rather than play this game.

I don't agree at all, there is some really cool scenes and everyone I know whose played this game gets hooked first time. I agree, spend time with the missus but its OK for her to have a play too. I'm sure if she did she'd enjoy playing it too.

Review Title:

I was recently introduced to this game and loved it the first time I played. I felt it was such an immersive game, I couldn't believe the game had so many different options, features and magic and characters. The graphics were amazing really eye catching and music was cool too. Its really challenging too and like that you have to get use to the skill level before you can progress on to the more difficult stuff. From just 1 hour of playing, I was so addicted. I ended up playing all night, I must have spent 24hours on it. My mum was shouting at me, for not getting off the computer. I wonder how many other people have had similar experiences.
