

Storyboard for Collaborative Screen Designs

1. Joe Bloggs is a student who likes Games and wants to post a review for his favourite game.

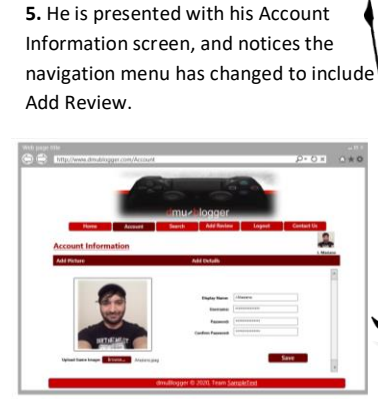

2 He spots the perfect website for posting game reviews.

3. He clicks the Register button and enters his personal information and clicks save

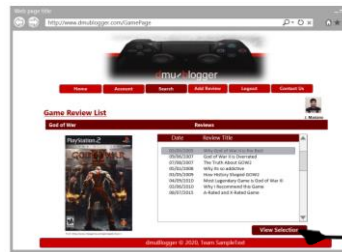

4. After registering he clicks the Login button. Enters his Username and password and logs in.

5. He is presented with his Account Information screen, and notices the navigation menu has changed to include Add Review.

10. He spots a comment that really upsets him and clicks the Report button. Then posts his own comment using the Post button

9. He is presented with the Game Review list, and selects a review and clicks the View Selection button

8. From the list he clicks God of War II and then clicks View Selection.

6. He clicks the Add Review button and enters the review details, then clicks the Post button to post the review.
