

Storyboard for Screen Designs

1. Joe Bloggs is a student who likes Games and wants to post a review for his favourite game.

3. He clicks the Register button and enters his personal information and clicks save

4. After registering he clicks the Login button. Enters his Username and password and logs in.

5. He is presented with his Account Information screen, and notices the navigation menu has changed to include Add Review.

2 He spots the perfect website for posting game reviews.

10. He spots a comment that really upsets him and clicks the Report button. Then posts his own comment using the Post button

9. He is presented with the Game Review list, and selects a review and clicks the View Selection button

7. On the Search page he types in God of War and clicks search to see what comes up.

8. From the list he clicks God of War II and then clicks View Selection.

6. He clicks the Add Review button and enters the review details, then clicks the Post button to post the review.

7B. From the Developers list he selects Blizzard Entertainment and clicks View Selection.

7C. He is presented with the Developer Page and the list of Games by the Developer. He selects a game and clicks View Selection and redirected to Game Page

7A. From the dropdown list he selects Developers.

